IV. Compliance:

- The financial institutions with which we structure transactions are regulated and registered entities in their country of origin. RELIER acts as structuring agent once the Mandate with the client has been formalized.
- The identity of the Sponsor will remain confidential until the Mutual Non-Disclosure Agreement is formalized for the preparation of the Term Sheet or a formal offer, which will be presented jointly by the financial institution and RELIER.
- All information shared by RELIER is provided in good faith and under direct instructions from the Sponsor. Any disclosure related to the Sponsor's identity will be made solely in accordance with the confidentiality guidelines established by the Sponsor.
- RELIER, in adherence to professional due diligence standards, undertakes to use its best efforts to prevent any funds contributed by any Sponsor, Investor or introduced Counterparty from originating from illicit activities, including but not limited to, transactions related to money laundering, terrorist financing or any other activity prohibited under applicable law in Mexico, the United States of America and international standards (including FATF/GAFI).

- RELIER will conduct reasonable review procedures (“KYC/AML Screening”) on the Sponsors or Investors it introduces to the Client, using publicly available information, commercial databases and/or source of funds declarations provided by counterparties, with the same scrutiny that the applicable financial institution will apply when reviewing the origin and destination of the Client’s funds.
- However, the Client acknowledges that RELIER is not a financial institution or regulatory authority under Mexican law, and therefore its obligation is limited to making reasonable preliminary verification efforts and promptly notifying the Client of any red flags.
